How Mr. Walter Raleigh Met His Doom.

By the author of "The Interior Journal."

On the morning of Raleigh's execution

his keeper brought a cup of sack to him, and inquired how he was pleased with it.

"As well as he who drank of St. Giles' bowl," he said to Tyrone, "answered the knight, and said it was a good drink, if a man might but carry it."

"Prithvi, never fear, O'Connell," cried in to his friend, Mr. Hugh, who was repelled from the scaffold by the Sheriff, "I shall have a place!"

A man, bald from extreme age, pressed forward "to see him," he said, "and pray

him to die."

Raleigh took a richly embroidered cap

from his head, and, placing it on that of the old man, said:

"Take this, good friend, to remember

me, for you have more need of it than I."

"Farewell, my Lord," was his cheerful reply to a courtly group who affectionately took their leave of him! "I have a long journey before me, and I must say good-bye."

"Now I am going to God," said that heroic spirit as he trod the scaffold, and gently touching the ear, added, "This is a sharp medicine, but it will cure all your ills."

The very headman shrank from behaving one so illustrious and brave, until the unassuming soldier addressed him:

"What dost thou fear? Strike man!"

In another moment the mighty soul had led from its manly tenement. The head, after being shown on either side of the scaffold, was put into a leather bag,

over which Sir Walter's gown was thrown,

and the whole conveyed away in a morning coach by Lady Raleigh. It was presented by her in a case during the twenty-three years which she survived her husband, and afterward, with no less playful affection, to her son, with whom it is supposed to have been buried at Westminster, in Surrey. The body was interred in the church, near the altar of St.

Margaret, near Westminster.

A Question of Taste.

By the author of "The Interior Journal."

A fat-footed, old-fashioned Western merchant, hailing from a country store in Michigan, was buying stock in New York recently, and the firm took advantage of the occasion to make inquiries concerning some of their customers around him. When asked about Smith, of Clarksville, he replied:

"Smith? He's in the trade yet, but he's just married a second wife, and she's going through his wealth like salt. He'll fall in love in two months."

"How about Jones, of your town?"

"Jones? Well, Jones is pegging along after the old style, and he's bought him a hicycle, and everybody says he will go in the fall in a year."

"And Brown & Son; are they all right?"

"Brown & Son? Well, they may keep along till Spring, but I doubt it. Old

Brown has got so near-sighted that he can't tell a sheep from a cow-skin, and the son is a dead-end case on a widow woman who never wears anything less than six dollars' stockings."

"But Davis is doing a good trade, isn't he?"

"Davis? Well, pretty fair, but he won't last. He's rented the upper part of his store to a Chicago milliner, and she broke up two families and a preacher. Everybody blames Davis, and his sales last week only footed up a pound of salaratus

and a wash-board."

"Well, you are the only customer out there, and of course you're all right."

"Me? Well, I'm all right just now, but things may change. My wife belongs to three literary societies and is the big word at church festivals, while I've bought a 240 trotter and learned to play bridge.

You needn't be surprised any day this winter to hear that I've been busted from garret to cellar as clear as crystal. Credit the day before—Wm. Hall and Jas. H. Hays. On Sunday Taylor Switzer shot his brother near Cynthiana with buckshot; on Monday Policeman Hendricks was murdered at Lexington, and three regulators were killed the same day in Bates county; and on yesterday we had the horrible murder, reported in another column, in this county. There were doubtless many more killings which have not been telegraphed, but are not these enough in two days? Is it not time for the people of Kentucky to reflect on this subject, and to protest in some effective way against the wholesale pardons of the Governor—pardons which are variously calculated to maintain order and not to suppress it?—

THOMAS HARRIS, Rump, Douglas, white, was convicted Tuesday of carrying concealed deadly weapons, and given the usual fine of $25 and ten days imprisonment. He now carries a necktie and a belt and chain, in place of the d. c. w.

When you go to Louisville, and are in need of clothes for yourself or your son, call J. W. H. & Co., corner of Third and Market streets, that they must sell them to you—that we say so—and they will comply with our request.

THE BEST—An etch of The Interior Journal saw the Richmond & McElreth Troupe play "Hazel Kirke" in Harrodsburg on Tuesday night, and pronounced it a most superior company. He heard several remarks that it was the best troupe ever in the town. Don't fail to see it in "Divorce" to-morrow night and "Hazel Kirke" on Monday night.

RICHMOND & McELRETH—The excellent dramatic company, bearing the above name will appear at the Stanford Opera House to-morrow night and Monday night, the 6th and 8th, in "Divorce" and "Hazel Kirke," respectively. Of their recent performances of three nights in Lebanon, the Standard and Times say: "No more meritorious contribution of real artists ever made a visit to our town. Their acting is really first-class, and the music is unusually fine. We take great pleasure in commending this company to all lovers of the drama everywhere."

NOT CROWNED—The editor of the "Sunbeam" column of the New York Sun takes the cake as the most willful distorter of fact and fiction. He says that "all the people who have sought the 'Fair Game' have died, and consequently Mr. (Geo. O.) Barnes' Hospital at Pink Cottage has closed for want of patients. With thirty or forty people always there, it doesn't look much like a death of patients; and, by the way, that reminds me that there is more than one person at Pink Cottage who is making a fortune out of it and using it as a summer resort, because they can get board and lodging for nothing. It is in an imposition which Mrs. Midgiff owes it to herself and the good people whose money supports the institution to rid herself of it."

THE ELECTION—Passed off very quietly in this county. One or two small fights and a bloody nose or so attested the effects of too much liquor, but nothing serious occurred. Except among the colored population and a few of the white masters, but little excitement was displayed, and as unusually small vote was polled. Below is the vote by precincts in the races contested—

You can get 10 pounds of blackberry sugar at A. Dwyer's for $1.00. I am making will take the hint.

We had rather be down here in the hills than try to write a paper when there's nothing to write about and the thermometer is in the shade.

The elevator and dining mill of Mattingly, McElreth & Co. are rapidly approaching completion. They will be ornaments to that end of town.

Two negro boys were arrested yesterday for jumping on and off the trolleys. They will be tried this morning under the law passed by the Legislature making it a felony offense.

The Republican of the Harrodsburg precinct, in preference to voting for Feland, cast their strength for Mr. P. T. Polard, although he had announced his retirement from the track.

Mr. T. W. HARRIS has tendered his resignation as Chairman of the Democratic County Committee. He has filled the office in a conscientious manner, and we regret to see him retire.

FOR KENTUCKY—Seph. Campbell writes as that he has plenty of room for all his Lincoln friends who visit him, and that he will make easy terms with those who remain during August and September.

THE FIRST KICKING, Burns and City, fell to fighting the other day, and after using each other pretty roughly for a few minutes, were arrested. A fine of two dollars and a half each was assessed against them.

CURRAN, BURMAN & Co. broke out in the stable at C. Jones & Co., Fisher, Danville, on Wednesday night, and the damage was communicated to the Baptist Church, that building was entirely destroyed. Loss $10,000, with no insurance.

STOCK WATER is getting extremely scarce and wells about town that have hitherto held out during droughts are ceasing to yield a full supply. Won't the good brethren and "sisters" pray that the flood gates of heaven be opened for a day?

WITH ONE OR TWO honorable exceptions, the letters in this issue were received after 1 o'clock yesterday. We must urge our correspondents to do better. We haven't a sufficient number of compositors to set up all the paper as Thursday afternoon.

A PARTY of roughs attempted to intimidate Rev. R. S. Sims after meeting at Hall's (Cep) church the other night, because he gave them a slight rebuff. It is likely that the matter will be looked into by the next grand jury and the guilty scamps made to suffer for their cowardly doings.

STURGEON DEATH—The body of Mr. Henry Foster, who had a railroad contract near Livingston, was brought down yesterday for interment on his place near King's Mountain. Deceased was about 60 years of age, and an honest and honorable man in all his dealings. He died of something like Pneumonia.

A VILLAGER was received yesterday by Sheriff J. N. Menefee from the Sheriff of Madison, telling him to arrest four persons by the name of Mitchell for murder, who were on the train, but an examination proved that they were not traveling by that means of conveyance. The Mitchell are charged with the murder of Wm. Huxley, Jr., and Wash Rogers on election day.

WHAT PARK—Our friend Mr. B. Mettling (alias B. Smith, as we spoke of him before), is again the dupe, if his story be correct, of Yankee charmers. A number of months ago he, at the solicitation of a couple of smooth-talking fellows, signed what he supposed to be a contract for the agency of A. K. Woods & Co.'s wheat fans, but with little or no money.

THEY HAD NO READ the paper himself, but one of the men pretended to read it to him. A short time ago a car-load (20) of the machines were sent him, and yesterday as agent of the company came to collect a plain note of hand signed by Mr. Mettling for $600, in full for the cargo. Mr. Mettling considers the whole thing a swindle, and will resist its collection to the bitter end.

RELIGIOUS.

There will be no services at Pink Cottage Sunday afternoon.

The Kentucky Conference will meet early in September at Harrodsburg.

The Fifth Cure people will hold a meeting at White Oak school-house, Sunday evening at 8 P. M.

High Bridge Camp Meeting closed on Friday last, with about 30 confessions and 17 additions to the church.

Bishop Thos. U. Dudley, of Kentucky, who is in Europe on his latest tour, is having many honors shown him.

Elders Williams and Livingston are conducting a meeting at Boone's school-house. There had been twenty-seven confessions up to yesterday.

"Cloing in swimming with a preacher," is what the wicked slanders of Christian county call immersion. But nothing better could be expected of a people that invariably elect a Republican to the Legislature.

The Presbyterians of Point Burnside are trying to build a church, but are far from able to bear the whole expense themselves. A collection was taken up by Mr. McElroy Sunday to aid them, and a liberal contribution was the result.

Bishop E. C. Haves, of the Methodist Episcopal Church died Wednesday at Salem, Oregon, aged 61. He had been very low for several weeks. Urmole was the immediate cause of death. He was born in Boston, November 1, 1850. He has been prominently connected with educational institutions, both East and West.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

The Peris Court was, also, a failure, no stock being offered or sold.

Alford & Swope bought of Cherley Daugherty 40 fat sheep at $3.10.

Cohen & Figg of Harrodsburg, bought of Will H. Hays 3 aged mules at $150.

F. D. Allright bought of T. J. Hord 30 tons of hay in the field at 25 cents per ton.

T. R. Walton, Jr., sold to Cyrus Mobley, of Harrodsburg, a yoke of oxen for $100, cash.

It is said that the baron crop in this State has been irretrievably ruined by the drought.

The wheat crop of Kansas is estimated at fully 20,000,000. That of Michigan at 17,000,000.

The Louisville Commercial estimates that there are now in bonded warehouse in Kentucky 41,000,000 bushels of wheat, or 912,000 barrels.

—THE STATE—A Buggy Pole, as good as new. Apply to W. P. Walton, Stanford.

—ALFORD & Swope have just received from Tennessee 150 breeding ewes, which they offer for sale.

—Adam Peace sold to A. T. Hutchings one-half interest in his 4-year-old filly—Lady Peace—for $250.

—The highest priced animal at Hamilton & Venable's sale was bought by J. T. Magowan for $1,000.

—John M. Hays, of Wolfe county, sold 81 ewes to Williams & Stumper at $2.25, and 81 lambs to S. P. Hunt at $1.40 per head.

—Muir, Pearce & Lary sold at Clintonville, Bourbon county, on Friday, 45 head of Shorthorns for $5,665, an average of $126.

—Stanford is just now the best wheat market in the State. Wheat is paying $1.25 for it, when the highest Louisville quotation is $1.25.

—Also offered to Cincinnati 40 lambs, averaging 83 pounds, that he bought of the Carick brothers at 5 cents per pound. (Georgetown Times).

—The total public sale of horses and mules during July, in Cincinnati, was 12,235, at an average of $45.70 per head.

—Newton Thompson sold to Joe Gayle 10 acres of tobacco for $100 per acre, to be delivered in bond in the house. (Georgetown Review).

—Twenty-five shares of Madison National Bank stock sold Monday at $150 per share, and thirty-eight shares First National, of Richmond, at $135 to $136.

—The market for hogs will open out this fall at about $6 per hundred, and will be as good, and perhaps better, at the start than at any other time. (Lexington Transcript).

—Last week Henry Cronk bought of Ben Stum of North Washington, twenty-two two-year-old mules, 15 and 10 hand high, at $140 per head. They are extra fine. (Nelson Record).

—J. H. (old) sold last Monday to Ware & Goff 110 head of cattle for September delivery, when they are to weigh 1,500 pounds, at $5 per cwt. He also sold 40 head to James Thors at $4.75. (Winchester Democrat).

—Venable & Hamilton's sale of Shorthorns took place over Winchester Thursday. The offerings comprised 76 animals which sold for an aggregate of $98,880, a general average of $590-71 cents averaging $575, and 5 bulls $558.

—County Court day was entirely laid in the shade by the election, and business of all kinds was neglected. Not a single horse of stock changed hands that we are aware of, and the auctioneer's voice of the auctioneer wafted upon the air.

—Lands along the line of the Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad, in Rowan and Carter counties, which rated from $3 to $5 per acre five years ago, are selling at from $25 to $30, according to the proximity of the road and the character of the land.

—The crop outlook in Tennessee is discouraging. No rain of any consequence has fallen in the middle division of the State for over two months. The corn crop throughout the State will prove a failure. Pastures now in November look as brown as they would in November.

—The lead and silver ore on the farm of Lee A. O. Whit, in Laurel county, has been subjected to a chemical analysis at Cincinnati, and has been found to contain from 40 to 70 per cent of gold and silver. Specimens of the same kind of ore have been found on the land of Mr. Moses Kemper, at Hazel Patch.

—The horse harness gelding recently sold by Eddie Wren has made one of a team of six for the Emperor of Japan. The three pairs sold for $3,000—one pair for $1,200, one pair for $1,000 and one pair for $800. Mr. Wren received $375 for his horse, and he made one of the pair that sold for $800. (Georgetown Times).

—COWS—Good cattle in demand with but little offering. Common, $2 to $2.75, best shipping, $3.35 to $3.75. Ewes are lower. Best, $4.40 to $4.90; common, $3.25 to $3.60. Sheep, $2 to 3 cents; stock, $2.25 to $2.50; to weathers, $3 to 4. Unfavorable reports from the East cause the lamb market to be weak and dragging at 3 to 5 cents.

—GRASS IN THE SOUTH—Grass is not prevalent in the South because it is not desired. A farmer was recently prevented by law from sowing grass seed in a Southern State because the neighbors feared the grass would spread to their land; and the fear of grass is general. There are some good native grasses in the South. Bermuda grass stands excellent pasture and hay, and some of the annual grasses, as the common crab grass (Eleusine indica), are probably cut for hay. There is also fear of grass not growing.

—Mr. George Hays, of Lancaster, who owns a big elevator and mill there, attempted to bluff our farm dealer, Mr. Geo. D. Warren, who had bought several thousand
